SIGNING BEFORE FRIDAY UNLIKELY

Not Probable That Ceremonies Will be Held at Versailles Until Last of This Week

VONHANEL MAY BE RECALLED

In Any Event It Appears Germany
Will be Represented by a Single Signatory

(By United Press.)

Versailles, June 24.—Herman Mueller, new German foreign minister, has been appointed president of the German peace delegates, it was announced officially this afternoon. It was said he probably would sign the treaty alone, but would be accompanied to Versailles by a delegation of twenty.

Secretary Von Honiel announced that Mueller's delegation will arrive here tomorrow.

Paris, June 24.—Formal signing of the peace treaty will take place Friday or Saturday in Versailles, it was indicated in official circles today.

Herr Dunker, a member of the German peace delegation in Versailles, said that while Secretary Von Haniel had been empowered to sign, he believes that Von Haniel does not wish to do so, but may if orders are received to that effect from his government. The agency radio said it understands he has asked to be recalled. In any case it appears that Germany would be represented by a single signatory.

Demonstrations over Germany's acceptance of the peace conditions were held throughout the city last night, assuming the proportions of the armistice day demonstrations.

Premier Clemenceau directed firing of the first gun announcing Germany's acceptance and remarked, "I have been waiting for forty years for this."

President Wilson conferred with members of the American commission last night regarding plans for turning his work over to other members of the delegations.

At Versailles all parts of the palace connected with the signing of the treaty have been temporarily closed to the public. All arrangements are being made preparatory to signing.

In view of the fact there will be 65 delegates present it is believed the ceremony will last at least two hours.

Assembly Resembles Funeral

Weimar, June 24.—The national assembly today voted overwhelmingly in favor of signing the peace treaty after Chancellor Bauer had announced the cabinet's intentions to accept the terms without reservations. The decision was arrived at in a meeting of the assembly which resembled a funeral more than anything else.

Bauer struggled through a speech which constituted a funeral oration over Germany's plans of 1914. He declared that even out of the dark hours which he saw ahead, a better future might come through a world.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY TODAY

Henry Kney Thrown From Buggy—
Suffers Fractured Collar Bone

Henry Kney of the Blue Ridge neighborhood suffered a fractured collar bone in a runaway accident this morning while on the way to the home of his son, Conrad Kney.

Mr. Kney's horse frightened at a dog and began to run. At a turn in the road the horse continued its pace and Mr. Kney was thrown out of the buggy on his shoulder. He was taken to the home of his son, and Dr. Barnett of Homer was called.

LIEUT. COL. JONES IS BACK

Former Rushville Physician to be Sent to Camp Taylor

Lieut. Col. George B. Jones, a former Rushville physician and widely related in Rush county, has arrived in New York after service of a year or more overseas, according to word received by relatives here. He will do special work in a hospital in New York for a time and then will be transferred to Camp Taylor.

Lieut. Col. Jones had been in the army several years when the war broke out and went overseas as a captain. He was advanced to the rank and major and then to Lieutenant Colonel, and received a citation for his work in the medical corps.

SLOGAN CHANGED BY OPPONENTS

"Immediate Peace" is Now the Cry of Those Who Are Opposed to League of Nations.

RESOLUTIONS IN SENATE

Outcome of President Wilson's Tour
Will Depend on Outcome of Opposition to His Program.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 24.—"Immediate peace," today was the slogan of league of nations opponents in the senate. While last week they demanded separation of the treaty proper and the league, they now demand that congress declare peace for the United States and let business reap its benefits.

The peace resolutions introduced yesterday by Senator Fall, New Mexico, and Edge, New Jersey, are before the foreign relation committee, which may take them up today or Wednesday.

The resolutions probably will be opposed emphatically by the administration forces. They regard the Fall and Edge resolutions as simply further evidence of the partisan efforts to harass President Wilson.

President Wilson's forthcoming tour of the country will be determined largely by the outcome of the senate's opposition to the league of nations.

He would prefer that the limit of the tour be two weeks but may be forced to extend this. The president has been advised of the senate's situation to date on the treaty as follows:

There is insufficient vote to separate the treaty proper and league of nations (sought by the Knox resolution).

There is insufficient vote to pass the Fall resolution providing for immediate ending of the war (sought by Fall).

There appears no chance of a clear majority of the senate voting on any treaty amendment or provision that would jeopardize the treaty or league covenant.

There does not appear to be the necessary two-thirds majority now in favor of ratifying the treaty and league as it stands.

Hence the president expects to attempt to put the forthcoming battle on a clear cut line—namely, will you take the present treaty with league covenant, or will you reject the treaty either by voting against it or talking it to death while the other allies approve it, thus forcing America to make a separate peace with the enemy or continue technically to stand at war with Germany?

The president's tour will be a one man affair. There has been talk that the former president Taft and other prominent men will also make the journey with him, but this is unlikely.

County Board of Review Finishes
Reassessing Real Estate and Improvements

TO CONTINUE TO WORK NORTH

New Values Have Already Been Placed on All Property in City
East of Main Street

The county board of review, which is reassessing real estate and improvements in Rushville city, completed the appraisal of property in the business district today when the members covered all territory between Main and Morgan streets from Second to Fourth streets. All real estate and improvements east of Main street have already been reassessed.

The board expects to continue to work north between Main and Morgan streets to the north corporation line and then will begin at the south corporation line again and go north between Morgan and Harrison streets. This scheme is followed because the property is nearer the same value.

Values placed on the remainder of the real estate and improvements east of Main street, which have not already been published, are presented herewith:

Real estate and improvements between Ninth and Eleventh streets and east of Willow street and the Pennsylvania railroad were valued as follows:

Orville and Mary Cruse, $200; Henry Richardson, $150; Miller J. Ogden, $175; Sarah Riley, $700; Ida M. Wicker, $2,500; Hazel Waltz, $1,000; Capitola Dill (lot only) $400; James Gillispie, $1,650; William B. ANOTHER TAIL LIGHT CASE WILL BE TRIED

Dr. D. D. Drago, One of Eleven
Arrested Last Thursday Night,
Will be Arraigned Tonight

TWO AFFIDAVITS QUASHED

The second of the state cases growing out of the arrest of eleven automobile owners last Thursday night for violations of state motor laws, will be tried before Mayor Irvin by a jury tonight at 7:30 o'clock when Dr. D. D. Drago will be arraigned on a charge of operating a motor car without a tail light.

Cases against Dr. E. H. Green and Owen L. Carr for similar alleged offenses have been dismissed because it was found they were arrested before the time when the law says a tail light shall be lighted, which is one-half hour after the sun sets.

Voorhees Cavitt won his case before a jury last Friday evening when he showed that he had been arrested shortly before nine o'clock and that on that day it would not be necessary for him to light the tail light of his machine before 9:10 in order to comply with the law. Harry Benham, one of the eleven arrested, paid his fine of one dollar and costs.

CARDS PLACED IN EVERY HOUSEHOLD

Every Person in Rush County Is Given Opportunity to Sign
Pledge to Try to Save

A SCHEME FOR THRIFT WEEK

Cards Are Distributed on All Rural Routes by Mail Carriers and by Postmen in City

"I am Planning to Save."

This is the statement that local War Savings committee is asking every person in Rush county to make this week. J. H. Scholl, county director for the campaign, in making announcements of the plans for the observance of Thrift week, which began Sunday, said the committee, with the aid of the mail carriers of the county, is putting 2,500 copies of the card headed, "I Am Planning to Save" in Rush county homes during the week. This card says:

"It strikes me that 4.62 per cent, which is the War Savings Stamp interest rate, makes a good investment; that I ought to own a few shares in the United States of America; that I ought to ward off the rainy day, or at least be prepared for it if it comes. So I plan to save."

Mr. Scholl says the foregoing is the text of Rush county's Thrift week endeavors. Every household in the county is asked to sign one of these cards and mail it to his local postmaster. The card will indicate the signer wishes to try to buy Thrift Stamps or War Savings Stamps every week. It will be up to the postmaster to see that the signers are provided with stamps, either through the mail carries, banks or other agencies selling stamps.

The Thrift week literature is being placed in every box on every rural route in Rush county and in every home in Rushville by city postmen. In towns of the county which have no free delivery, other means will be employed by the postmasters to distribute the pledge cards.

FORTY-FOUR BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM RUINS

Fergus Falls Clears Away Debris of Sunday Night's Tornado—15 Unaccounted For

TOWN IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

(By United Press.)

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 24.—Fergus Falls cleared away the debris of Sunday night's tornado today.

Forty-four bodies have been removed and 15 are reported unaccounted for. Three hospitals checked 167 injured.

The town is under martial law. Visitors are not allowed. Even residents are barred from the search of the ruins. State guardsmen took the place of volunteers in cleaning up. Officials were ordered to shoot anyone found looting. Most of the damage was done in the wealthy residence district. More than 1,500 homeless were given temporary shelter in the undamaged homes and buildings. The Red Cross and city relief furnished food, clothing and other necessities.

The Governor appealed for relief funds, which brought scores of replies today in sums ranging from a few dollars to hundreds of dollars. Train service was restored last night and supplies are being rushed.

GROSS BREACH OF TRUST

Senator Lenroot Thus Refers to Secretary Baker's Conduct

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 24.—Charges of gross breach of trust which "if committed in normal times would come very close to leading to impeachment provisions," were made against Secretary Baker and the war department today by Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, during a debate on an amendment to a bill declaring the department committed a moral wrong to spend millions of dollars to buy land at Camp Benning for a school of arms after the armistice was signed.

STATE MAY BE ONE REVENUE DISTRICT

Plans Being Considered in Washington to Consolidate Sixth and Seventh in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS TO BE CENTER

New Arrangements Calls For Establishment of Branch Offices
Throughout the State.

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, June 24.—Consolidation of the 6th and 7th internal revenue districts is being considered in Washington, according to reports today. The change will be made June 30, it is said, and headquarters will be in Indianapolis. Headquarters of the seventh district were in Terre Haute and of the sixth in Indianapolis.

The proposal to unite the two districts, which is of vital interest to business men in the state is understood to be part of the program of Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, to form such districts along state lines with the advent of prohibition and imposition of new taxes, as outlined by him in an address to revenue officers at Cincinnati recently. Terre Haute now is the headquarters of the Seventh district and Indianapolis of the Sixth.

Under the suggested arrangement, branch offices will be placed at Evansville, Terre Haute, Vincennes, and perhaps other cities. For a number of years branches were situated at Lafayette and New Albany, but these were closed some time ago.

It is said a midnight meeting of the Peoria Chamber of Commerce was held to protest against the proposed change, while thousands of telegrams poured into Washington asking that it be not made. The protests were of no avail, and it is said that a like result is expected to obtain here, if the same steps are taken.

Isaac R. Strouse, of Rockville, is now collector for the 7th district.

CHESTER TAYLOR HELD FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Chester (Chuck) Taylor was arrested at three o'clock this afternoon on a grand jury indictment charging the unlawful sale of liquor. Taylor has been at liberty on a suspended sentence. He was tried before a jury in the circuit court in April, with Special Judge W. A. Barnard of Newcastle on the bench, on a charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, which was the outgrowth of some boys finding whiskey in his automobile, which they had stolen. The case was withdrawn from the jury and Judge Barnard gave Taylor ninety days in the penal farm and fined him $100. The sentence was suspended. Two other indictments were returned by the grand jury, which reported this morning.

LOCAL ROAD PART OF STATE SYSTEM

Designation of North and South
Route Through Rush County Will Renew Highway Activity.

AWAITED BY COMMISSIONERS

Expected to Concentrate in North and South Road Now—Power
Road Will Not be Built.

A north and south road in Rush county, extending from the Henry county line to the Decatur county line, will be a part of the state highway system, according to an announcement today of the tentative plans of the state highway commission, made by L. H. Wright, director of the commission.

This means, if the system is finally approved by the commission as outlined, that the John H. Power et al. cement road, beginning at the end of the brick pavement in North Main street and extending to the Jackson township line, will not be built because the county will not spend any money improving permanently roads which the state will take over.

The contract for the Power road has already been let to George Miller of Lebanon, who is building the Weir cement road in Noble township and has the contract for the John G. Beale cement road in western Rushville township. The work has never been started on the Power road because the bonds have never been sold, largely due to the fact that road bonds are quoted below par, and for the additional reason that the state board of tax commissioners have never approved the bond issue.

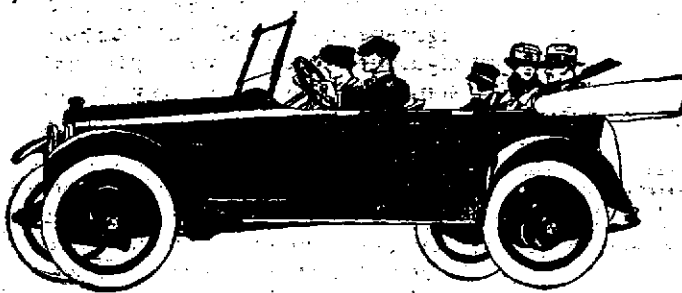

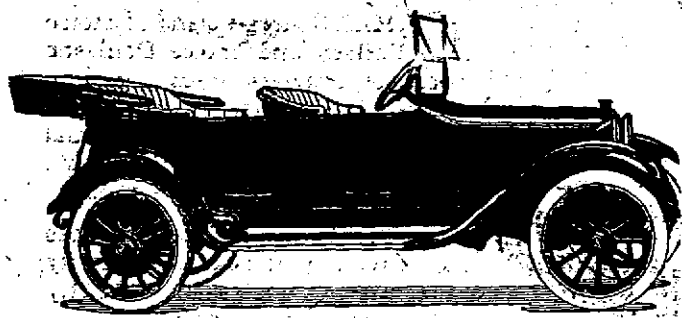

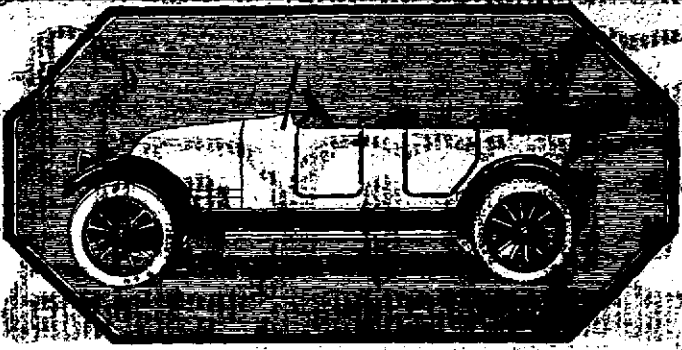

It is not likely that the state tax board will O. K. the Power road bond issue since the announcement by the state highway commission that it will be a part of the state highway system, even though the commissioners considered, going ahead with the construction of it, which they will not, persons close to the county board state today.

The selection of a north and south route through Rush county as a part of the state highway system likewise means that three petitions for three different routes to the Decatur county line, will not be granted by the county board of commissioners. All of the petitions were for cement roads, to be built under the county unit road law, and the designation of a north and south road by the state commission removes a heavy load from the shoulders of the commissioners.

The county board faced a big job in having to select one of the three routes each way because each one had its adherents, who thought the cement road should run by their farm. It will now rest with the state highway commission to select the north road as well as the south road which will be a part of the state highway system.

The announcement by the commission did not designate any south routes, merely stating that the road would begin at Greensburg and run north through Rushville. From Rushville, the announcement says, it will pass through Sexton on to the National road. As a matter of fact, there is no north and south road through Sexton, but there is one which runs to within a half mile of Sexton, jogs slightly west, then runs north over the Bitner place, an east and west road, then east to Mays and north on the Danvers pike to the National road. It is assumed this is the road the state commission means. Any north road picked, however, will traverse the road petitioned for by John H. Powers and others, so that the action of the state body is certain to nullify this petition.

It was stated today that the 300,000 Maxwells; they grow better as their numbers multiply

LIKE an artist who paints a picture, or a man in business, the Maxwell improves with each day's output.

Gradual, almost invisible to the man at the forge or in the accounting office but certain as the rising of the sun, there's an improvement well nigh daily.

There have been five years of making this Maxwell better and better, and the basic design has never changed once in that time.

At one time the Maxwell was known only as a hill-climber. Again it gained attention through its work in rough country. Then it earned a reputation on economy. But gradually it became better and better spoken of for its enduring, everlasting reliability.

That kind of reliability that doesn't burn your pocketbook with repair bills, that knows no task too difficult, that never complains of old age, that gives you about as much trouble as a pair of shoes, that travels on a very small gas appetite.

300,000 of them are in use throughout the world.

In those sections of the world where few cars make good, there you will find the Maxwell—often the dominating car.

The 300,000th Maxwell is the same basic car as Maxwell No. 1. No changes in design—but many improvements.

There's no doubt it's a better car today. Nearly 300,000 of one model has its obvious effects.

Growth of Wheat Production.

The United States seems likely to supply in 1919 a larger percentage of the world's wheat crop than in any earlier year. Our share of world wheat production steadily increased in the twenty years prior to 1910 but slightly declined between 1910 and 1914. With the fall off which the war brought to wheat production in Europe, the world's greatest wheat growing continent, and the stimulation of production in North America, which ranks second as a wheat growing continent, our share of the world's crop has rapidly increased and seems likely to be in 1919 about 30 percent of the world's total as against 17 per cent in 1890, 18 percent in 1895, 20 percent in 1900, 21 percent in 1909, dropping to an average of about 18 per cent in the four years preceding the war. During the war, with the fall off in European production, our share of the world's wheat production has ranged about 23 percent and in 1919 will probably be fully 30 percent, should the present estimates of the Department of Agriculture be justified. Europe holds first rank among the continents as a wheat producer, North America second, Asia third, South America fourth, Australia fifth, and Africa sixth. Europe produces in normal years about 52 per cent of the world's wheat, North America approximately 25 percent, Asia 13 per cent, and the Southern Hemisphere about 10 percent.

The wheat crop of the United States grew from 400,000,000 bushels in 1890 to a little over 500,000,000 in 1900, slightly more than 600,000,000 in 1910, about 1,025,000,000 in 1916, and is officially estimated as likely to be 1,230,000,000 bushels in 1919. Meantime the world's crop, according to a compilation by The National City Bank of New York, grew from 2,400,000,000 bushels in 1890 to 2,610,000,000 in 1900, 3,575,000,000 in 1910, crossing the 4,000,000,000 line in 1913, and again in 1915 but dropping during the latter part of the war period to an average of about 3,500,000,000 bushels per annum, this fall off being chiefly due to a reduction in output in that greatest wheat growing continent of the world, Europe.

Obsolete.

Readers of the advertising pages of magazines are doubtless familiar with the typical publicity display of the correspondence school. It generally contains illustration and text, and the latter is often embellished with mottoes and catchwords. "Get out of the Dinner Pail Class" is one of them. Another is "You can make more money with your collar on".

The picture often shows a rejoicing mechanic being greeted by his wife on his return from work, after being appointed superintendent. Or a cordial employer shakes hands with an overworked toiler, and tells him that he has been made an executive, as a result of taking a technical correspondence course.

But the argument begins to lose force. There are sign painters' helpers drawing $6 a day (scale), and draftsmen getting $18 a week. There are executives at $25 a week, and day laborers receiving the same sum.

It begins to look as though a man is paralyzed for educating himself.

Shoes are $55 a pair in Nish; spool cotton is $12; a small piece of soap, $6; the cheapest man's suit is $240. This condition exists in many parts of Europe. Americans who fret at the high cost of living at home recently gave of their surplus worn and old clothing to take care of sufferers in overseas countries. In

Amusements

Romance and Comedy at Mystic

Romance and comedy divide honors on the Mystic's bill today, with Albert Ray and Elinor Fair in "Words and Music By—" and a Matt and Jeff cartoon in "Dog-Gone Tough Luck."

William Russell will appear in "All the World to Nothing," adapted from a story of the same name. Winifred Westover plays the part of an orphan who must either marry at once or forfeit a fortune. She learns of this in the nick of time, and, at the psychological moment, a certain Richard Chester has disguised himself for another purpose and prowls into her apartment by mistake. He is given the choice of marrying her or to be handed over to the authorities.

Because of his former status as a millionaire and a man-about-town, Chester, portrayed by Russel, fears notoriety more than prosecution, chooses the marriage alternative and becomes her husband.

He is told that it is a "mere matter of form" and, regarding it as such, he makes himself scarce immediately after the ceremony—then begins a precarious existence as a book agent, as a worker in a coal-yard, and what not.

He becomes deeply attached to a young fellow-unfortunate, who is soon afterwards accidentally killed. The only person he can appeal to for aid, in the matter of giving his pal a decent burial, is his wealthy "wife in name only."

Her compassion is great and the situation reveals to both of them that their marriage was not a "mere matter of form" after all.

Wallace Reid at Princess

In his latest Paramount picture, "The Roaring Road," Wallace Reid, the popular star, playing the role of "Togdles Waldon," has two great ambitions or desires. The first is to win the hand of his employer's daughter known as "The Cub" and the second, to drive the Darco car of which "The Bear," his employer, has the agency, in an impending Grand Prize Road Race. He seeks to win the former by accomplishing the latter.

Three Darco cars, which his employer had ordered shipped to him, are smashed in a train wreck and "The Bear" has to give up the race. But Togdles gets on his chance and buying the wrecked cars from the express company, he rebuilds one good car from the wreckage and on the day of the race carries off the first prize. But even then the Bear refuses to give Togdles his daughter's hand. But Togdles later wins the girl in a clever and ingenious way.

There are several thrilling and exciting race scenes in the picture which will be shown at the Princess Theatre tonight. Mr. Reid drove his own car in all the scenes, attaining at times, incredible speed. James Cruze directed and Marion Fairfax wrote the scenario from a series of stories by Byron Morgan. Well-known players, including Ann Little, Theodore Roberts, Guy Oliver and C. H. Geldart, support the star.

WILL ESTABLISH TUBERCULAR HOSPITAL

Lagrange, Noble, Steuben and DeKalb Counties Take Favorable Action at Meeting

FIFTH OF ITS KIND IN STATE

(By United Press.)

Kendallville, Ind., June 24.—County officials and prominent citizens of the counties of LaGrange, Noble, Steuben and DeKalb, took favorable action at a meeting held at Rome City, near here, yesterday, looking forward toward the establishment of a district tuberculosis sanitarium, supported by the four counties.

The county commissioners, members of the county council, county auditors and county attorneys of the territory affected were in attendance. Addresses were made by Major Wm. F. King, assistant secretary of state board of health, Drs. Albert Henry and E. Q. Laudemann of Indianapolis, Judge Luke H. Wrigley and Col. I. D. Strauss of Noble county, Frank J. Dunten of LaGrange and Judge Dan M. Link of Auburn.

This movement was promoted by the local anti-tuberculosis societies of the four counties, of which ex-Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan of Auburn is the active head, and the success of the project is largely due to the skillful campaign just closed, made by Miss Ida Spaeth of Lawrenceburg, field secretary of the Indiana tuberculosis association.

This is the fifth institution of its kind in the state.

roads advocates will now concentrate their efforts in getting an improved highway running east and west through the county and an extension of the Weir road, which is being built in Noble township, to the Franklin county line at Andersonville. There can be no dispute about an east and west route because there is only one, beginning at the Shelby county line and running straight east through Rushville to the Fayette county line to Glenwood. There are already petitions for cement roads under the county unit law to run from Rushville east and west to the county line on each side.

The county commissioners some time ago postponed action on all of the county unit petitions until the state highway commission made known its plans and it is now expected that the good roads activity will be renewed.

The comprehensive state highway plan, which spreads out over the state like a spider web and reaches every county seat and city of 5,000 or more population, contains 3,006 miles.

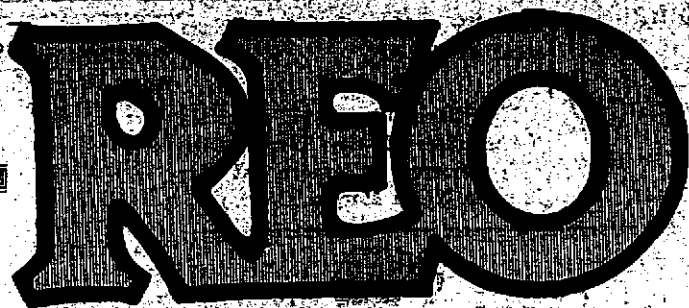

The act of the 1919 legislature provides that the state highway commission shall designate the

Here Are Some Figures That Are Eloquent

WITH MORE THAN 100,000 Reo "Speed Wagons" and Passenger Cars in service last year, the factory Parts Department showed a total revenue of $700,000.

THAT'S ONLY AN AVERAGE of $7.00 per "Speed Wagon" or Passenger Car paid by Reo owners for replacement parts during the year!

WHEN YOU CONSIDER that, of those 100,000 Reos, only 20 per cent were in their first season, another 25 per cent in their second season, and the rest ranging all the way from 3 to 14 years of age, the figures are still more astonishing.

THEN CONSIDER, TOO, that those replacements included parts injured, or broken in major accidents and collisions, as well as ordinary wear, and you will see that the normal replacements must be even lower than that average.

OBVIOUSLY, many Reo owners must have had to buy no replacement parts at all considering a street car collision frequently calls for two or three hundred dollars worth of parts.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, the records show that thousands of Reo owners have yet to buy their first replacement part.

THOSE FIGURES TELL the story of Reo quality — Reo stability — Reo dependability — as no mere words could do.

LOW UPKEEP is a Reo attribute, and it is due mainly to that Reo policy of putting "50 per cent oversize"—the Reo standard factor of safety—in all vital parts, such as axles, driving shafts, bearings, etc.

THE REO OILING SYSTEM is another reason. For a faulty lubricating system is the source of many ruined bearings and parts of great expense. The Reo system is well nigh perfect.

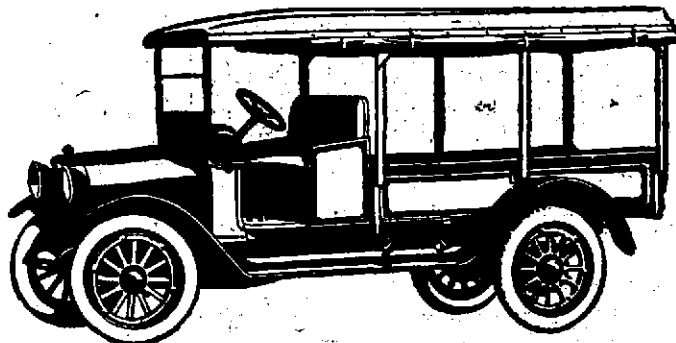

THAT IT PAYS to build that kind of product is best proven by the tremendous over-demand the Reo output always has enjoyed.

AT THIS TIME it is even greater, if possible, than at any previous time.

SO THE ONLY WAY to be at all sure of getting a Reo "Speed Wagon" is to order early—now.

BETTER SEE ABOUT THIS at once. Delay may result in your having to accept your second choice in lieu of a Reo.

WINS SUIT AT GREENSBURG

Wm. McMillin Successful After Jury is Instructed to Find For Him

Will H. McMillin, county auditor, won a law suit in the Decatur circuit court at Greensburg yesterday, when Judge Craig withdrew the case from the jury and gave instructions to find for him. The plaintiff, Larimore, sued for $550, the sum alleged due, because Mr. McMillin did not deliver tobacco according to a contract Larimore said he made. It developed from the evidence that Mr. McMillin's tenant, Leslie Morris, who had an interest in the crop, had signed a contract to sell the whole crop when he did not have the authority to do so. The jury returned a verdict giving the plaintiff a judgment of $214 against McMillin.

IN MEMORY OF

HENRY KNOTTS.

Once more, we are called upon to pay the last tribute of respect to one of our loved ones. This time the call came to Henry Knotts. He was the son of Richard and Lana Knotts and was born in Washington township, Rush Co., Indiana, one and one half miles north of Falmouth, on January 27, 1847.

He was one of a family of 11 children, 8 sons and 3 daughters and his death closes the life and history of his father's family. He was next to the youngest child and the last one to pass away.

On October 11, 1871 he was married to Mary A. Jackson and to this union were born 7 children, 3 sons and 4 daughters of whom one son and 3 daughters, with his wife survive.

His entire life with the exception of a few months was spent on the farm where he was born.

He taught several terms of school, at the Nixon and Dull Schools, and he elected his pall bearers from among his pupils. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge, at Falmouth, Ind., and gave it his loyal support for more than thirty years.

The Knotts family have always been members of the Baptist Church and faithful attendants of its services and in 1907, Mr. Knotts, his wife and daughter Nora united with the East Fork Flatrock Baptist Church and have since that time been among its most active members.

He died on Sunday morning June 15, 1919 having lived 72 yrs., 4 mo., 18 days.

Of his immediate family, those to survive him are, his wife, one son, Fred Knotts; 3 daughters, Mrs. Minnie Gwinnup, Mrs. Nora Stackey, and Miss Bessie Knotts and 6 grandchildren. These, with other relatives and his many friends will long cherish his memory. A good man has passed away and he will be sadly missed from his accustomed walks of life.
